

Privacy Policy

Along with our integrity, Australian law demands that we protect your privacy. Maintaining your trust is essential to us and we undertake to act responsibly in all matters to this end.

What Information Do We Collect?

BSB Packaging collects certain information from you (which may include your name, address, telephone number, e-mail address) when you purchase products from bsbpackaging.com.au, when you register with us or request communication materials. If you change your mind, you can unsubscribe by following the link clearly visible on all our communication e-mails to you.

We also track information from customer interactions online. This information may include your internet domain address, interactions within areas of our website and other information that helps us to monitor our performance, track trends and statistics – all this to improve your shopping and site experience. However, your identity will remain unknown to us and information is stored without any personal details.

Use and Disclosure

BSB Packaging does not sell or share with third parties any personal or customer information. It may only be disclosed within our business for processing your order or for improving services to our customers. We do not disclose information to unrelated third parties unless required by law.

Mailing list

We may contact you to inform you about new BSB Packaging products or items of interest via email or postal mail as long as you have indicated that you do not object to this. You can always choose not to receive any further newsletters or promotional material from us by clicking on the appropriate link clearly visible in emails we send.

Alternatively you can contact us directly at: sales@bsbpackaging.com.au or at our postal address:
